

HAMILTON COUNTY, OHIO BURIAL SITES

compiled by Mary H. Remler

This is a report of the search for all former and present burial site locations, small and large for Hamilton County. They are listed under the original township name or with the division in the county to which they were transferred or for which there is documentation. An asterisk by the name means that the known records have been published. The information given states when the site was first recorded, size, and location with various name changes and present status. "Nearly extinct" is where all the stones are buried or there is nothing but small pieces and bases left to identify the place but not the interred; "inactive" is a cemetery where no burials have taken place since 1975; "nearly inactive" is a way of stating all lots sold, but will bury lot owners.
